Book Description:

Jebediah Humphries, at the age of fourteen, is undoubtedly the clumsiest, most accident-prone and very worst Wizard in the world, and has certainly acquired a reputation as such at his wizarding summer camp. However, his skills are tested to the utmost when his parents are held to ransom by Ogres and he is catapulted, along with four hapless friends, into a series of hair-brained schemes – kidnapping and theft included – leaving disaster in their wake.

But there's more to his parents' disappearance than meets the eye – a dark and evil presence is plotting revenge, and the teenagers become entangled in a web of treachery that threatens their very lives. Pursued by the Gnome Mafia and a collection of the most unsavoury characters that the magical community has to offer – and aided and abetted by a Leprechaun and a commando Fairy – the clock is ticking and time is running out to find the ransom money and save his parents' lives.

About the Author:

Nichol Williams was born and raised in Yorkshire where she now lives with her children. An avid reader from early childhood, she has developed the ability to imbue the enthralling characters in her story with her own quirky style and sense of humour, enabling her readers to be transported to, and totally immersed in, a realistic yet magical world.
